CREATIVE SERVICE for Contemporary Cuisine

From Grant Achatz's Alinea in Chicago, serveware by Crucial Detail.

Chopstick Rest/Bud Vase

The minimal, but functional design of this piece offers you some presentation options that appeal to several senses. Use it as a bud vase and entice your diner's eyes and stimulate their nose by adding an elegant flower or aromatic herb. If you prefer, you can simply use them as a rest for chopsticks or any other service piece. 2" L x 1/2" ø

R815

Sugar Tongs

The six delicate tines on these tongs allow you to pick up sugar cubes with ease and add a sleek design element to coffee and tea service. Expand your options and have your diner use these tongs to manipulate other items. Their soft and flexible design allows you to pick up oddly shaped items and add a new hands on dimension to the dining experience. 3 3/4" long.

R814

Peacock Skewer

This delicate series of skewers is placed in a fan pattern on a sleek angular base, mimicking the natural beauty of peacock feathers. The skewers can be removed to facilitate plating and are flexible, making them ideal for miniature bites. 7" each rod, 3/4" base.

R808

Oval Miska Bowl

Miska, which is the Polish word for bowl, is a small, oval, rimmed service piece with an elongated rim that makes it easy to handle and beautiful to look at. The unique impression and the curved rim of this bowl offer you infinite possibilities for presenting all kinds of small dishes. 7 1/4" x 4 1/4", 2 1/2" h, 3 1/4" bowl.

R809

Anti-Plate Spoon Presenter

This halo-shaped porcelain circle is a clever way to transform a simple spoon into an elegant service piece. It acts as a secure rest for any teaspoon to a serve a bite size portion. 1" h x 4" d.

R810

Note: Spoon not included.

"Sectional"

An elegant porcelain pedestal creates an artful presentation for a single bite of food. May be used individually or creatively grouped. Diners eat directly off of the "sectional" by lifting it from the table.

2" h, 1 1/4" x 1 1/4" plate.

R574

Bow

The Bow by Crucial Detail is a unique service piece used by the Grant Achatz, at Alinea restaurant, that allows you to suspend a finished product, like his "Bacon", across a stainless steel arch. This one-of-a-kind concept is sure to add to the overall experience of any diner.

8 1/2" L x 5" h.

R806

Antenna Skewer

The Antenna is a self supporting skewer that is designed to rest on the table surface. It is meant to hold a small bite of food and is angled towards the diner's mouth to eat your creation hands free. 13 1/2" h, 3" base.

R807

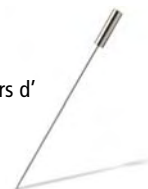

Wine Cork Presenter

A means of dramatically presenting a cork to patrons. Ten Prongs gently hold the cork in place. Stainless steel and wood. Weighted bottom. Not machine washable. 4" h. 1¼". R571

FATA® PAPER

What Is It?

Fata® paper (loosely translated "Fata" means magical in Italian) an innovative product that can be made into see-through cooking pouches! It allows you to cook in a bag so that all the flavors and juices are concentrated. Then you can bring it to the table and serve with all the aroma (and drama) intact when the bag is opened. It is sold in rolls that can be easily cut, folded and tied with string or kitchen twine. Now available in convenient, pre-cut packs.

The see-through pouches can be:

- Cooked directly on a hot surface
- Heated in the microwave
- Immersed in a water bath
- Baked in the oven up to 425 degrees Fahrenheit
- Immersed in hot oil, no hotter than 425° Fahrenheit
- Put in the freezer down to -50 degrees Fahrenheit

Do not put on an open flame nor use with alcohol.

What Do I Use It For?

EVERYTHING! Use it to make soups, chowders, steamed fish, stewed meats and vegetables, even warmed or baked fruit.

What Are The Benefits?

- Healthy, Light Cooking - less fats and oils, because food cooks in its own juices
- Tastier Food - flavors are trapped and only released when the plate reaches the table
- Surprise and Excitement - the clear pouch is opened at the table with a rush of fragrance and visual sensations
- Speed - food cooks faster
- Drama - cook right at the table for crowd pleasing effects
- Convenience - portions can be prepared ahead of time (even frozen in the pouch) and cooked or "finished" just before serving
- Use Fewer Pots - clean-up is quick and easy because there are few or no pots

How Does It Work?

Fata® Paper comes on a roll either 10 meters or 50 meters long by 50 cm (20") wide or in pre-cut 50 cm square sheets. With knife or scissors, cut a piece approximately 20" long. Place the food in the middle. Fold up and tie with string, twine or ribbon. THAT'S IT!

To measure the temperature inside the pouch, use a laser thermometer from the outside or a probe thermometer pushed through the tied top. Use scissors to cut open the pouch.

Helpful Tips

- Don't seal the pouch too tight, or pressure builds up and tiny holes may develop.
- If tightly sealed, make a pin hole with a toothpick.
- Let frozen pouches warm to room temperature before placing on heat.
